Nexus Minerals uncovers more broad gold at Crusader-Templar

Nexus Minerals Ltd (ASX:NXM) managing director Andy Tudor is back in the studio after the gold explorer closed the books on a 70,000-metre reverse circulation drill program at the Wallbrook Gold Project's Crusader-Templar prospect. The last batch of results showcase broad gold hits along a 1.6-kilometre mineralised corridor, and Tudor says this targeted program has "yielded great results". Alongside the drilling campaign, Nexus completed a flora and fauna study that positions it for the next stage of development. In the meantime, the company continues to turn the soil on its regional drilling campaign and hopes to provide an update as soon as next week.
